

A faint, light purple illustration of two people's profiles facing each other and touching their noses. The illustration is centered behind the text.

Touch noses with your partner
and take turns telling one another three of your pet peeves.

Run your finger along the length of your partner's body while you tell them something non-physical that you admire about them.

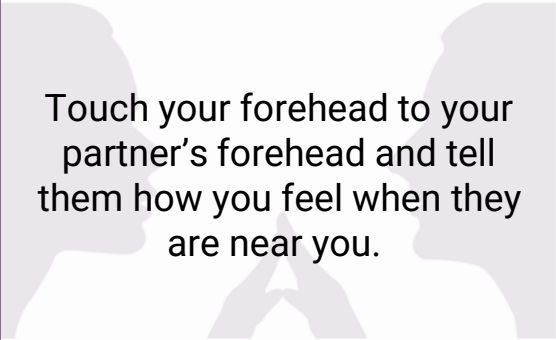

Interlock fingers with your partner using both hands and tell them the story of how you met, pretending they are a stranger who has never heard the story before.

Give your partner a five minute foot rub while you tell them stories you remember from your early childhood.

Trace your partner's lips
with your finger while you tell them about a memory
you have of them that makes you smile.

The background of the text features a light purple silhouette of two people facing each other with their foreheads touching. In the center, there is a smaller silhouette of two hands clasped together. The entire scene is framed by a thick, dark purple rounded square border.

Touch your forehead to your partner's forehead and tell them how you feel when they are near you.

Hold your partner's hands behind their back with their wrists crossed while they tell you about a time they had an encounter with law enforcement or broke the law and didn't get caught.

Squeeze your partner's knee
while you finish this sentence:

My partner captured my attention and/or impressed me
when they _____.

Find a song on your phone that reminds you of your partner and ask them to dance with you as you play the song for them.

Massage your partner's back while you tell them several things you've noticed them putting effort into recently.